

CSGO - Youtube recovers ECS

Counter Strike, CS:GO, Global Offensive, ECS, Youtube, Twitch, FACEIT, Michele Attinasi

Youtube scored a huge hit and retrieves the ECS broadcast rights to the detriment of Twitch.

It is through Slingshot we learn that YouTube has managed a big cost in recovering the rights to broadcast the ECS, the Esports Championship Series on Counter Strike.

While the league was launched by Twitch and Facelt and streamed on Twitch past two years, it would seem today that Facelt wants to change and reach a broader audience by partnering with YouTube. Michele Attisani, business manager and co-founder of Facelt explains this choice by the fact that the Youtube platform is one of the most viewed by the players and the company continues to improve its offer to become the market leader.

Michele Attisani, business manager and co-founder of Facelt.

The deal will take effect from March 25 this with promotional games that oppose Europe, Virtus.pro to the Turkish team Space Soldiers, where one can find MAJ3R and Fnatic in North. The promotional event will also take place on March 25th for the US teams but teams are not yet known.

Share this Article

Share
Tweet
Email

Latest news

- 05:56 The Express News Day 0
- 2:18 Fnatic separates from his Acad... 0
- 24/05 ECS: Fnatic collects à la tête 0
- 5.21 Recruitment of time 28
- 20/05 Geek Days : Maxisaucisse en finale 0
- 20/05 ESL joins Facebook 1
- 09/05 A rematch $ 250 000 0
- 08/05 G2 wins DH Tours 1
- 08/05 Our interviews Dreamhack 2
- 07/05 DH Tours beGenius BYOC tourna... 0
- 07/05 EnVyUs and G2, the French duel 0
- 07/05 EMI Sydney: SK wins 0
- 07/05 DH Tours list of tournaments 2
- 01/05 KQLY joined Vexed Gaming 1
- 01/05 Gambit wins DH Austin 0