

Esports

Home

Menu

Next CS:GO Major Championship will be held in London

By Yinsu Collins

Last Updated: 27/02/18 4:41pm

10,000 tickets will be available for the event in London

The next CS:GO [Counter-Strike: Global Offensive] Major Championship will be held in London.

Leading competitive gaming platform FACEIT will host the UK's first ever CS:GO major at London's SSE Arena, Wembley in September.

The UK-based esports events company announced the news on Twitter after successfully bidding to bring the popular competition to London.

VINCENNES FRI 23, 18:00
Vincennes 18:00

WINNER

<	IQUEM DAMER 3/2	IPSOS DE SIMM 11/2	IRON DESPOIR 8/1	>
	IDAHO SPRINGS 7/2	ILLUSTRE FERM 7/1	ITS EAGLE COGLAIS 11/1

Max stake varies. See bet slip for details. Odds subject to fluctuation. Further T&Cs apply. 18+

Powered by oddschecker ● BeGambleAware.org®

With 24 teams battling out for a prize pool of $1m [£720,000], it is expected to be one of the biggest esports event ever held in the UK.

London-based Fnatic, defending champions Cloud9 and runners-up FaZe Clan are amongst teams that hold Legend spots in the upcoming tournament.

24 teams will compete for a $1m [£720,000] prize pool

The previous Major, held in Boston, drew in 1.13m concurrent viewers and broke the record for the most concurrent viewers of an English-language eSport event.

"The community has been at the heart of everything we do at FACEIT, and we're so grateful for the support of the players on our platform and those who've attended and watched ECS," Michele Attisani, chief business officer and co-founder of FACEIT said.

"We're excited to create an amazing celebration of CS:GO to honour that commitment.

---

Also See:

Nordavind make double FIFA signing

ESports: Europe's LoL trailblazers

London Spitfire unveil academy team

Rainbow Six worlds gets underway

---

"We look forward to seeing everyone there in September."

Ten thousand spectators will be welcomed to the Finals with tickets to the event going on sale on April 2nd.

Sponsored Links

---